THE SILVER BULLET SOLUTION

Boutique Porting, QA, and Publishing Support for PC & Console Games

WHO WE ARE

A Boutique Partner Built for Precision

Bulletware Games is a boutique video game development services company based in the UK.

We specialise in premium porting, FQA, LQA and submission support services for major console, PC and mobile platforms.

In an industry dominated by large, anonymous service providers, we offer something different:

Direct access to senior experts, flexible workflows, and a personal approach to every project we undertake.

WHY CLIENTS CHOOSE US

The Boutique Advantage

Many clients struggle with outsourcing partners that are:

- Slow to respond due to overcrowded pipelines
- Rigid in process and pricing
- Increasingly reliant on automation and AI-driven QA processes
- Disconnected from the creative and cultural needs of the project

Choosing Bulletware Games provides:

- Direct access to experienced professionals
- Faster communication and problem-solving, with same day solutions often possible
- Bespoke services, specific to each project
- A partner who genuinely cares about the outcome

Clients need focus, flexibility and trust; not volume-driven services.

WHY WE ARE PARTNER FOCUSED

Boutique scale / Senior expertise / Real accountability

At Bulletware Games, every client works directly with our experienced professionals – not account layers or automated systems.

We tailor our service to your project for:

- Scope
- Budget
- Target market applicability
- Release timeline

That means faster decisions, instant and clearer communication, and better results.

OUR EXPERTISE

Decades of Experience

Proven Worldwide

Each of our directors brings over 25 years of industry experience, spanning game development, porting, QA, localization and publishing support across multiple platforms.

Collectively the team have:

- Worked across all current major platforms and genres
- Developed, Published and Supported hundreds of shipped titles
- Collaborated with major publishers and developers worldwide.

Our experience allows us to anticipate problems early and solve them efficiently.

JAPANESE MARKET SPECIALISTS

Experts in Japanese Games for Western Markets

Bulletware Games has wide-ranging expertise working with Japanese publishers and developers to successfully bring their titles to Western audiences.

We understand:

- Japanese development workflows
- Cultural and design expectations
- Localization nuance, beyond simple translation
- Western platform compliance and certification

This speciality has helped our partners publish dozens of Japanese titles globally.

WHAT WE DO ⁽ⁱ⁾

End-to-End Technical & Publishing Support

Porting:

RECENT PROJECTS

Supported Titles Since Founding BWG In 2025

These projects showcase our expertise with narrative-driven, Japanese-origin titles across multiple platforms.

Clients required a range of services, including conversion, LQA, extensive text-editing, plus full FQA and Submission support.

HOW WE WORK

A True Extension of Your Team

We integrate closely with your existing team and workflows, providing:

- Our own dedicated reporting system (or alternatively we can use your own)
- Early identification of technical and compliance risks, saving critical time and workload that can often jeopardise submission deadlines
- A dedicated senior point of contact
- Transparent reporting and communication, to meet your needs
- Flexible scheduling and resourcing, according to scope
- Tailored pricing to support both emerging and established studios effectively and affordably

Our goal: Make your project run smoother, faster and more successfully.
